DELAWARE.

THE Town of Delaware is located on the The fown of the Missouri River, ten miles below Leavenworth, in Kansas Territory. This town is laid off on a beautiful bluff, gradually ascending, and commands a fine view of the river above and below for fourteen miles in ex-river above and below for fourteen miles in extent, with a permanent landing for steamers, reaching one mile; equal to that at St. Louis.—

Situated on the shortest and most direct route for emigrants up the great Kansas Valley, nearer, by ten miles to Fort Riley, than any other town on the Missouri River—within three miles of the Delaware lands, it must command, to a considerable extent, not only the trade of the Delaware nation, but also of the rich and fertile valley of Kansas. This town is sufficient Delaware nation, but also of the rich and fertile valley of Kansas. This town is sustained by a back country acknowledged to be the very best in the Territory.

Ferry I—There is at the center of the town site, a ferry, equal to any on the Missouri river.

Timber I—There is an abundant supply of timber, of all the varieties common to the country on the Kansas side; while opposite, in Missouri squads out an extensive and rich bottom, densely covered with the largest timber productive and teeming with population.

Water I—There are several springs of excellent water, within the town limits, while 21 miles south, in the midst of a beautiful country there is gushing up in rich profusion, a spring of mineral water, offering at no distant day, a retreat to those in search of pleasure, and the invalid. Delaware was laid out in February last, since which time a number of buildings have since which time a number of buildings have been erected and now in the course of erection. Arrangements have been made, for the establishment of an Academy and the erection of an Ho-tel and Stenn Saw Mill, which will go in op-
